ENGLAND TO SPEND $10,000,000,000

Speech of Lloyd George in House of Commons Yesterday.

GRAVITY IN COUNTRY.

France and Russia to Raise Their Quota Towards Financing War—To Aid Belgium and Servia

London, Feb. 16.—England, today as never before realizes the enormous task laid out for the allies. The speech in the house of commons yesterday by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, announcing that the cost of the war to England and her allies this year will be $10,000,000,000, that the allies have only one third of their strength employed, and that the other two thirds will be used to the full has added to the feeling of gravity in this country.

Great expectation was aroused by the chancellor's speech that some countries which are now neutral will speedily enter the war on the side of the allies ,and popular hopes turn toward Italy, Greece, Roumania, and possibly the Neatherland, and one or more Scandinavian powers. The chancellor did not name any country but made reference to loans to countries which he expected to throw in their lot with the allies. He declared that the British empire would spend considerably more from $500,000 to $700,000 more than either France or Russia, probably the highest figures spent by the other two great allies.

The chancellor said there was every indication that France would succeed in raising money necessary to the part she is playing in the war but that Belgium and Serbia must be assisted.

BILLIONS FOR WAR

Lloyd George Sees No End to Resources of the Allies Fighting Germany.

London, Feb. 16.—Ten billion dollars have been appropriated by the allies thus far in the most expensive war from the standpoint of human lives, dollars and war material ever waged, David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, asserted in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Lloyd George's statement was made in repsonse to requests for information about the recent conference at Paris at which representatives of the allies discussed war finance.

He added that Great Britain is spending probably $500,000,000 or $750,000,000 more than either Russia or France "in the fight against German militarism."

The chancellor, however, assured members that there was no danger that England's resources or the resources of any of her allies would be exhausted in the near future.

"England" he said "could finance her end of the war expenditures for five years solely out of the proceeds of her investments abroad. France could finance her share for two or three years by a similar means and still have something to spare There can be no fear as to Russia. Through her prodigiously rich national resources she is in a different position from either France or England."

YOUNG MAN KILLED.

Caught in Belt And Terirbly Mangled at Slatemills, Rappahannock County.

Washington, Va., Feb. 16.—William Rosson, a young man of Novum, Va., was killed yesterday morning at F. G. Hitt's mill at Slatemill, in Rappahannock County. He was putting a belt on a rapidly revolving wheel when he was caught in the belt and instantly killed, the body being terribly mangled.

Alva Aerie, 871 Meets Wednesday Night 7 o'clock.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A mob late yesterday captured a negro named Horace Robinson, accused of killing Terrell Kemp, an officer at Brookville, Ga., late Saturday night, lynched him and then shot his body full of holes.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning the Democrats of the House in caucus adopted the ship purchase bill as a party measure. The vote was 154 to 29. Seventeen Democrats announced they would not vote for the bill in the House.

The British steamer Wavelet struck a mine off the English coast today and had to be beached near Deal. Twelve of her crew were drowned when a boat in which they were trying to reach shore capsized. The Wavelet was bound from Pensacola, Fla., for Leith, with a cargo of timber.

Fetcher White and Beverly White, members of the noted feud family, were killed, Beverly Bailey was mortally wounded and several other persons were injured in a general battle in the Clay County, Ky. mountains early yesterday. The fight resulted from a fracas in a gambling house. Bailey is alleged to have shot both the Whites, who were sons of one of the wealthiest men in that part of Kentucky.

Forty days of fasting and prayer against the bill of Representative Clark providing for Jim Crow cars in the District of Columbia is the plan of the colored ministers of Washington, who have entered protest against the bill. The National Colored Baptist Alliance of Alliance met yesterday. Rev. Simon P. W. Drew introduced a resolution calling on all ministers of the District and all other cities and towns in the United States to join in forty days of prayer starting February 17. The resolution also called on all the citizens of the District to petition the members of Congress to defeat the bill.

Claiming the road had too long delayed settling with him for personal injuries sustained several months ago in Montana, Richard Tremento, a Greek laborer, began shooting in the Northern Pacific freight office at Seattle yesterday evening, and killed Charles Driden, chief clerk, to the general claim agent of the Northern Pacific, and R. E. Hatton, timekeeper of the company, and was himself slain in a battle while resisting arrest at the hands of the police. Miss Beryl Lockhart, a stenographer in the claim agent's office, saved her life by jumping through a second story window.

A dispatch from Seattle, Wash., says A. V. Brown, a seaman on the cruiser North Dakota at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, died yesterday from injuries received yesterday while boxing on the cruiser West Virginia with Clarence Salmon, another seaman. A blow behind the left ear rendered Brown unconscious. Brown's home was in Dallas, Texas. Naval authorities held that Salmon was blameless.

By far the most thrilling document published since the war began is an interview with General Joffre giving his views of military operations from the battle of Charleroi to the French reverse at Soissons. "After the preliminary greetings," he writes. "I turned the conversation to military operations, and Joffre expressed his utmost confidence in final victory. He had told the same thing the very day war was declared.

The distress which is being felt in all parts of Spain is very pronounced. Hundreds of men are parading the streets of Seville every day, imploring the government to find work for them. Popular opinion attributes the rise in the price of foodstuffs to the large exports of this class of products which are being made to Germany. Efforts are being made to prevent the embarkation of 25,000 sacks of grain which are now lying on the wharf at Seville, ready for loading and only awaiting the order of embarkation by Swiss agents here. One of the bread shops of the city was attacked Sunday.

RICHMOND'S WAR ON VICE

Mayor Requests Commission to File All Evidence Early

PROBE WILL FOLLOW

Outcasts From Segregated Districts Scatter All Over City—Many Complaints are Lodged.

Richmond, Feb. 16—The movement for an investigation of the Police Department, with the view of fixing the responsibility for alleged official connivance in the maintenance of immoral resorts outside the old segregated district, took on a decidedly quicker tempo yesterday with the forwarding by the Mayor of a letter to the Vice Commission in which that body is asked to file without delay such supplementary reports upon the vice situation as it holds in store.

While the Mayor's letter merely asks for the filing of all the evidence in the commission's possession and he has nothing to say directly upon a proposed investigation, there is a clear intimation that further action will be taken.

Complaints that former inmates of the recently abolished segregated district are moving into residential sections were filed with the police yesterday. The complaints came from various sections of the city and many of them were made by well known persons who have lived in their own homes for years. They informed the police that women who are said to have formerly lived in the segregated district have moved into their immediate neighborhoods, and inquired what they should or could do.

The police are at loss to advise them. The complainants were told that the reports would be listed and that the department would do what it could for them.

One of the best known judges of the city has become alarmed over the fact, as reported to him, that several former residents of the disreputable section have moved into a house directly opposite his own. He has no power to remove them or to bring proceedings which would result in their ejection.

A police officer who ranks high in the local department is in the same circumstances. It is said that a woman whom he knows lived in the segregated district for several years has secured a flat in a house opposite his home. He too, is powerless to act; for the police are prevented by law from entering private houses without a warrant, and to secure a warrant some one must swear that the law is being violated in the particular house which it is sought to enter.

A number of persons living in the the suburbs have reported suspicions of certain houses in their localities also.

KILLS NEGRO WITH GUN.

Slayer Claims That he Acted in Self-Defense.

Charlottesville, Va., Feb. 16.—Following an altercation in the neighborhood of Boyd's Tavern, this county, late Saturday afternoon, Clyde Shepherd, son of H. C. Shepherd, a well known merchant at Keswick, shot and killed Vinton Johnson, colored, who was employed in the Chesapeake and Ohio depot at Keswick.

Young Shepherd, it is alleged, had been drinking quite heavily, and, in a moment of anger, fired the load into the negro's breast. Death was almost instantaneous.

Shepherd was arrested at his home later in the afternoon and was brought to the Charlottesville jail Saturday night. He claims that while walking along the road with a single barrel breech loading shotgun he met Johnson, who tried to wrest the gun from him. In the scuffle which ensued, the gun was discharged.

HOLIDAY TOMORROW.

Anniversary of Peace Between the Mayor Fisher has received from Governor Stuart a copy of his proclamation proclaiming tomorrow a holiday in commemoration of the Treaty of Ghent, when English-speaking people shook hands and sheathed their swords. One hundred years will have elapsed tomorrow since Brittania and Uncle Sam buried the hatchet, and although jingoes have from time to time attempted to disturb relations between Great Britain and America their ties of friendship have become stronger in the years which have followed.

The proclamation was published in the Gazette several days ago. The Governor recommends that the occasion be celebrated as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the Old Dominion; also that at noon and for five minutes thereafter all travel cease and all labor, business, recreation and active employment shall be suspended. These recommendations will, in the main, be carried out. The banks and schools will be closed for the day.

There will be no meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners tomorrow night on account of the holiday, although that will be the third Wednesday night in the month.

"THE DOLLAR MARK."

At the Richmond tonight will be shown a Brady feature presented by The World Film Corporation and featuring Robert Warwick, entitled "The Dollar Mark."

John Gresham, owner of the Nelly Davis Mines, is approached by a scheming capitalist, Carson ,Baylis, with his friend Martin, to sell the mines under the pretenses that he is taking a great risk due to government regulations. Jum, knowing the courts had decided in his favor, flatly refuses the offer, Baylis, with a party, visits the Cobalt district to look over the ground. During the visit one of the party, Alice Chandler, while skutching, is caught in a terific storm. Jim offers the hospitality of his little hut. During the storm the dam breaks, tearing houses from their foundations and ripping trees from their roots. Breaking down a door, Jim with Alice, float down the raging cataract until reaching a lrge tree. He chains himself to raft and tree. Martin, realizing the danger, goes to the rescue on horseback. The party once safely on land, Jim is again approached to sell, but sitll refuses. Several years later Martin has become a friend and partner in Jim's bank, which Baylis attempts to break.

The news reaches Jim while at a party. Seeking a means to get to New York, Alice's brother offers his yacht. During the voyage Baylis purchases the yacht and forces the captain to put to sea. Jim in desperation compels Baylis to enter a hatch, which he closes on him, while Martin at the point of a revolver, directs the yacht. Jim reaches New York in time to save the bank and claims Alice as his prize.

ANTI-AMERICAN FEELING GROWING

German Press Still Insists That United States Favors Allies

PEASANTS' BOYCOTT

Berliner Zeitung Prints Pamphlet Alleged to Have Been Written by Theodore Roosevelt

Berlin Feb. 16—With the German press daily publishing dispatches tending to show that the United States is siding more and more with the allies, and with the reprinting of dispatches taken from the English newspapers indicating extreme hostility toward Germany, the people of Germany are becoming worked up to a point which it would be difficult to exaggerate. Officials and American citizens here cannot disguise their serious fears that some incident will occur which will lead to a serious crisis.

Wounded officers and men from the front openly charge that the German losses are becoming much greater now that the French are using American manufactured arms and ammunition.

The peasants and land owners of Bavaria and elsewhere are now refusing to buy argicultural implements manufactured in the United States.

The Berliner Zeitung yesterday published a pamphlet which it charged was prepared by former President Theodore Roosevelt and urging the United States to join the allies and crush Germany.

The Berlin Tageblatt reprinted today a dispatch from an English newspaper which says that American officers have resigned from the army and are applying for naturalization as Britishers in order that they may be eligible for commission in an American brigade formed to fight for England, 2,000 strong.

The position of Ambassador Gerard and Consul General Law is now becoming extremely delicate and difficult both officers being focus points for German criticism.

London, Feb 16—"Germany will not be allowed to adopt a system of open piracy and murder without active reprisals," declared Winston Churchill first lord of the admiralty, in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

At the close of Mr. Churchill's speech the premier announced that the government had decided, "under the special circumstances," to submit the cargo of the Wilhelmina and its destination to a prize court.

"We have not yet stopped the imports of food into Germany," said Mr. Churchill, but the time has now come when we must reconsider the situation. The allied governments probably will make a declaration, the effect of which will be to bring the full pressure of our naval power to bear upon Germany. The paralyzing force of this pressure of the navy may it self decide the issue of the war.

Copenhagen, Feb. 16—Large numbers of Americans are leaving Berlin and pouring in here on every train because of the hostile attitude of the Berlin press and the German people against Americans.

Amsterdam, Feb 16—War between the United States and Germany is considered as a possibility in an editorial in a weekly German publication, copies of which reached here today.

The other weeklies protest in violent language against alleged American partisanship for the allies, and urge the government to resist what they call "American pressure."

Madrid, Feb. 16—It was reported in official circles yesterday that Spain is prepared to take concurrent action with the United States regarding the German decaration of a war zone around England, if the neutral powers agree to act in concert.

The attitude of the government has been one of reserve, but the press professes astonishment at the German blockade.

Berlin, Feb. 16—The Norddeutch-Allegmein Zeitung states semi-officially that the explanations requested by the United States concerning Germany's order as to the blockade of the North Sea will be made in the same friendly tone as that in which the United States couched its request.

Washington, Feb. 16—The protest of the United States will not cause Germany to alter its plan of warfare against British merchant shipping, unless Great Britain herself changes her present plan of attempting to starve the German nation. This was made clear in a note from the German government delivered at the State Department yesterday by Ambassador von Bernsearff.

"Germany," says a statement issued by the German Embassy last night, "will be obliged to adhere to the announced principles till England submits to the recognized rules of warfare established by the declaration of Paris and London or until she is compelled to do so by the neutral powers."

LOCAL BREVITIES

The funeral of the late William H. Hunter took place this afternoon from his late residence. Services were conducted by the Rev. J. L. Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church.

The State Corporation Commission has issued a supplemental certificate of incorporation to the Indianapolis-Detroit-Washington Corporation, changing location of principal office from South Washington to the city of Alexandria and creating a preferred stock.

W. Leon Cark, architect has completed plans for a four story warehouse, 92 by 100 feet in size to replace the warehouse of Charles King and Sons, destroyed by fire several months ago. The cost will be $35,000 and bids will be received for the new building on March 1st.

Oysterman Drowned.

Fredericksburg, Va., Feb. 16.—Edgar Hall, a well known young man of Colonial Beach, aged 21 years, was drowned while dredging oysters with Captain J. H. Powell in the Potomac river. The sail gibed suddenly knocking Hall overboard. Capt. Powell threw the buoy out to him, which he caught, but let go and attempted to swim to the vessel, but sank before reaching it. The body was recovered.

ILL HEALTH CAUSES SUICIDE

Richmond Man Slashes Throat And Holds Wound Over Pail

Richmond, Va., Feb 16—Depressed mentally since the death of his mother in June and despondent because of his continued ill health, John Ellis Hutcheson, a bookkeeper 36 years old, slashed his throat with a razor Sunday night at his home here.

Hutcheson lay down on the floor and placed his head over a pail so that his blood would not stain the carpet. He slashed his throat three times. One incision was just below the chin severing the jugular vein and the other two cuts were on the side of the throat.

DEATH OF DR. WILSON.

Rev. Dr. Homer T. Wilson, National Chaplain of the Travelers' Protective Association, of America, died at his home, in San Antonio, Texas, on February 10th. Dr. Wilson was known by nearly 50,000 commercial travelers in the country, having come in contact with them during his connection with the above organization. He was the founder of the Homer T. Wilson fund which was devoted to the benefit of widows and orphans of commercial travelers.

HEAVY SNOWS STOP BATTLES

Attempted German Offensive in Upper Alsace is Checked

ARTILLERY FIGHTS.

Allies Will Endeavor to Retake Ground Ceded to Germans—Bombardment of Soissons.

Paris, Feb. 16.—Heavy snows have again interfered with the fighting in upper Alsace and in the Vosges. The attempted German offensive is reported generally to have been checked in that region. Elsewhere along the fighting front the exchanges continue to be monopolized by the artillery, and both sides have suffered from the destruction of advanced trenches.

Extensive movements of troops are reported to be in progress along the line from the Aisne northward, and it is believed here that an effort to retake the ground north of the Aisne ceded to the Germans because of the heavy floods will soon be undertaken.

The German artillery continues its bombardment of Soissons, and through the use of inflammable shells has been able to destroy several blocks of ruined buildings in the center of the city.

At La Bassee the British heavy mortars have compelled the Germans to withdraw some of their artillery and to replace it with pieces of heavier caliber.

Boy Loses Leg.

Petersburg, Feb. 16.—Crawley Davis, the 11 year old son of Thomas Davis, of Dinwiddie County, was badly injured in an accident Friday afternoon. He was swinging near the end of a moving train at Browder's Crossing on the Norfolk and Western Railway, when he fell and his right leg was caught and crushed under the wheels of the car. He was brought to the hospital in this city where it was found necessary to amputate the leg below the knee.

BOY SENT TO REFORMATORY.

He Places Obstruction on Track of Southern And Nearly Causes Disaster.

Charlottesville, Va., Feb. 16.—What might have been a serious wreck of passenger train No. 44, on the Southern Railway Saturday, was averted by the arrival of John Farrar and Jack Brown, of this city, at a point near the trestle at Maury's Mill, just south of Charlottesville, where a number of angle bars had been placed on each other and braced upon a rail in such fashion as to lift the locomotive from the track. They heard the train approaching, and succeeded in getting the obstruction from the track in time to prevent an accident. Looking about they discovered a small boy hiding behind a bush. When pressed, the boy, whose name is Jack Clements, admitted his guilt. He was tried before Magistrate Moran and ordered to the reformatory.

PORTRAIT UNVEILED.

Special Exercises Held at Church Named for Rev. John A. Broadus.

Richmond, Feb. 16.—Appropriate addresses, filled with reminiscenses of the man who is still regarded as the greatest man of the Baptist faith, marked the ceremony attendant upon the unveiling in Broadus Memorial Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon of a portrait of Rev. John A. Broadus, after whom the church was named. The painting is the gift of S. S. Broadus, son of Dr. Broadus, who is a prominent banker and business man in Decatur, Ala.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Wants $20,000 From the Washington-Virginia Railway Company.

Suit for $20,000 was filed against the Washington-Virginia Railway Company in Washington yesterday by Henry Regan in Washington. Regan alleged that he was a passenger on a car of the defendant company a year ago. He boarded the car at Alexandria, he said, and on his arrival in Washington was handed over to a policeman and charged with disorderly conduct.

Regan said he was put in a cell and detained over night, but that he was acquitted when he was tried the next day. He was prevented from attending to his business, he said, and subjected to great humiliation.

ATTRACTION AT SURPRISE

BAG STOLEN AND FOUND

Pouch Disappears From Union Station and is Found Rifled at Rosemont.

United States post office inspectors are working on the mysterious theft of a mail bag containing a quantity of valuable mail matter which disappeared from the Union Station, Alexandria, on the morning of January 23rd. The bag was a through Washington-Greensboro, N. C., mail pouch and had been locked in Washington.

The rifled bag, together with a quantity of letters, all of which had been carefully slit open with a knife was found on Sunday morning last in a vacant field adjourning Rosemont, about 300 yards north of the Union Station. Employees of the Union Station were notified of the finding of the bag, and they in turn brought the matter to the attention of Dr. W. M. Smith, city postmaster who in turn advised the Washington authorities.

LYCEUM MINSTRELS.

Large Audience Well Pleased With Performance.

In the face of drenching showers a large crowd attended the minstrel show at Lyceum Hall last night, and they were well rewarded by seeing one of the best minstrel shows ever given in the city of Alexandria. All the soloists were well received. Last night's program, which is as follows, will be repeated again tonight, and those who were kept home by the weather, will have a chance to hear them this evening.

The program is as follows:
Grand Medley Overture—Entire Company.
"Phoebe Jane"—Tom Priest.
"Melancholy Baby"—Thomas Burns.
"Back to the Carolina You Love,"—Owen Nugent.
"In the Heart of the City That Has no Heart"—Edward Downey.
"Poor Pauline"—Ray Hellmuth.
"When the Bells in the Lighthouse ring, ding, dong"—Mr. A. G. Hopkins.
"Back to Michigan"—Neal Hill.
"Hearts Bowed Down"—Mr. M. E. Greene.
"Back to Dixieland'—Lee Moxley.
"Please Let me go Home"—Tom Trodden.
Grand Finale, "It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary"—Entire Company.

During the intermission a vocal solo was given by Miss Agnec Whalen, of Washington, D. C., who was recalled several times.

The second part was a schoolroom scene. Miss, Eunice DeSilva as Tilly Ann, was the teacher; and the following pupils:—Liza Smith, Miss Ellen Patterson; Sallie Washington, Miss Nora Baggett: Sophie Mudd, Miss Mary Ewald; Phobe Jane, Miss Lena Moore; Magnolia Greene, Miss Mary Nugent; Maggie Dixon, Miss Pauline Hellmuth; Jessamine Jones, Miss Virginia Downey; Thursday Vedelia, Miss Eleanor Nugent; Daisy Brown, Miss Mildred Hellmuth; Sarah Jackson, Miss Mary Kelly; and Sal Skinner, the tardy scholar, Miss Helen Nugent

During the sketch there were vocal solos by Misses Nora Baggett and Mary Ewald, and a duet by Misses Eleanor Nugent and Mildred Hellmuth.

ALARM OF FIRE.

An alarm of fire was sounded about one o'clock this morning, a blaze having been discovered in a frame house on the east side of Henry street, between Queen and Princess. The department arrived in time to check the conflagration before it assumed dangerous proportions, although the interior of the house was considerably damaged. The fire, it is thought, resulted from an overheated stove.

Lovely New Dance Frocks

The modified high waist is the very newest feature of the new dresses, and the many attractive variations in which it is shown afford a good opportunity for the selection of a distinctive style. Plain waist lines and narrow bands in lovely girdle effects or shirred models are a few of the ways in which this charming styles has been utilized. The full skirts are mostly plain, and the dainty blouses are finished in exquisite fashions, with rosettes on the shoulders, cording and dainty ruffles, and the shortest of sleeves of tulle or lace.

PERIODICAL AGITATION.

Like the seventeen-year-old locust, attacks upon the present management of Mount Vernon appear after long intervals. Another agitation is in evidence in Washington for the purpose, it is alleged, of "eliminating graft at Mount Vernon and to place the tomb of the Father of His Country on a higher plane than that of commercialized patriotism." What is known as the "Mount Vernon Anti-Fee Association" has recently issued a statement which has set the ball in motion once more.

The Gazette has always thought it best to let well enough alone in regard to conditions at Mount Vernon. There was a time when but little care was taken of the home of the first President, and many people now living remember when fences were down and other bedraggled conditions were in evidence at that place. The Ladies' Mount Vernon Association took charge of the historic grounds and buildings at a time when early action was necessary in order to preserve them. That they have in the years which have followed performed well their duty cannot be denied.

Edward Everett, a prominent American at the time the association took charge of the place was paid ten thousand dollars by Robert Bonner, publisher of the New York Ledger for a series of contributions known as the Mount Vernon papers. The writer turned over the entire sum to the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association.

The clamor against the fee system at Mount Vernon is ancient In 1874 a steamer was built for service between Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon. She bore the name of Mary Washington, and was fashioned after the model of Mississippi river steamers. At that time there was a crusade against the fee system in the interest of the owners of that boat, and David Turner, an Englishman, who was a publisher in Alexandria during and for a short time after the civil war, wrote articles favoring free admission to the grounds and mansion. William H. Snowden, who resided near Mount Vernon also wrote articles suggesting that the grounds and mansion should be opened to the public. Their views, however, were not adopted, and conditions remained in statu quo.

Those who object to the fee system talk much of patriotism. The expenditure of twenty-five cents at long intervals in a life-time towards maintaining the place would seem to show but small acts of patriotism. The Englishmen pays a fee for the privilege of standing beside the sarcophagi of the Duke of Wellington and Admiral Nelson in St. Paul's Cathedral.

There is probably more love for agitation in some people than patriotism.

AIRMEN MENACE STRASSBURG.

Two French airmen flew over Strassburg, on the Rhine, Sunday, but did not drop bombs. This is the first time since the beginning of the war that French aviators have appeared.

Forty-five years ago Strassburg was part of France, that city being part of the territory forcibly taken from Germany by Louis XIV. in a time of peace. When the war between France and Prussia broke out in the summer of 1870 and the Teuton army laid siege to Alsace-Lorraine articles appeared in the papers of neutral countries beseeching the invaders to spare Strassburg, and especially its famous clock, one of the greatest wonders of the mechanical world. The Germans took the city, but during the short war the famous timepiece remained intact. The city was restored to original owners, and the Strassburg clock has since been one of the many interesting works of mechanism to be seen in Europe.

When Louis Napoleon, King William, Bismarck, Von Molke, Bazine and others were alligned against each other nearly two score and a half years ago the suggestion of [illegible] bomb-droppers would have been as ludicrous as hints that the genii of the Arabian Nights' Entertainment would have taken part in the war. But such are decidedly in evidence in this second combat. It is earnestly hoped, however, that none will show such an iconoclastic spirit as to drop an explosive on the famous clock which has witnessed so many great upheavels in the world during which it has regularly struck the hours of day and night.

ETERNAL CITY IS FLOODED.

Dispatches from Rome say that the streets of that city are flooded by a rise in the Tiber, and twenty-five hundred persons are homeless. Earthquake shocks in various places in Italy are adding distress and anxiety to prevailing perils.

Conditions in Rome are said to be serious. The waters have surrounded St. Peter's Cathedral, and that great edifice is now as an island.

There is much trouble in the world. The sword which was unsheathed at the close of last summer is still flashing. While thousands have perished during the six month's carnage the wolf has been creeping slowly towards many doors. Conditions are serious and are growing more so all the time. Two of the greatest nations on the earth are now making preparations to starve—or attempt to starve—each other. Germany has declared a blockade of the British Isles and the English government has announced its determination to keep the necessaries of life out of the Fatherland

No one can tell at present what part of the United States may yet be called upon to play in this great struggle Relations between our country and the belligerents are by no means as satisfactory as might be desired. President Wilson and his cabinet, however, see the rocks and if they fail to clear them in this fearful maelstrom it will be no fault of their own.

"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers"— said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

Says the Farmer:

"When a man asks me what I'll take for my cotton I don't even begin to figure until I've had a chew of PICNIC TWIST.

"When your answer means something, it's then you want something to help you to do some quick, clear, sure thinking before you say anything."

Last year the farmers made $9,000,000,000 worth of crops. They did some thinking, and PICNIC TWIST helped.

Do you want a tobacco that will give you the "punch" today without the "bump" tomorrow? Then try PICNIC TWIST.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ASSESSORS.

Auditor Moore Reminds Them of Oath to Assess Fairly.

Richmond, Feb 16—State Auditor C. Lee Moore has given instructions to the land assessors of the various counties and cities of the State, having in view more equitable assessments throughout the Commonwealth. The instructions emphasized the fact that the law requires assessments to be made at the fair market value, point out that assessors have taken solemn oath to see that it is done and enumerated the penalties attached to failure to keep that oath.

Land assessments are of February 1, and for several days the assessors have been at work in all the localities in the State. When the assessments are made they are to stand for five years.

Auditor Moore's drastic instructions and the recent passage of the segregation bill, segregating to the localities for purpose of taxation the real estate within their borders, are expected to have combined influence to increase assessments where they are too low. Although the law requires as the Auditor points out in letters to the assessors, that assessments be made at the fair market value, the average for the State is about 35 per cent thereof, the figures ranging from 12 per cent to above 50 per cent. With the counties dependent largely upon real estate now for their expenses of government and with State aid in great measure withdrawn, the counties are independent to a high degree of each other. Low assessments in one do not injure another, for each collects and spends its own. Consequently there is no temptation to one county to depress its assessments because another has done likewise.

The present land assessors seem impressed with the feeling that it is their duty to bring the assessments much nearer the figures required by the statute, though they will hardly undertake to assess at fair market value.

The assessment now being made does not furnish a basis of tax levies until next year. Those in authority and their constituents will have a chance to consider what the local tax burdens will be on the basis of the new assessments and new tax law. The local officers who are to pass on the question will be elected this year.

IN THE CORPORATION COURT FOR THE CITY OF ALEXANDRIA VIRGINIA.

Beatrice Dent vs
Sherman Dent. In Chancery

An affidavit having been made and filed, that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, upon application of the complainant in writing, stating specifically the last known place of abode of the defendant, the court on this 29th day of January, 1915, doth grant the following order of publication:

The object of this suit is to obtain for the complainant a divorce from the bonds of matrimony from the defendant, on the ground of wilful desertion and abandonment for a period of more than three years prior to the institution of this suit, and for the custody of the minor child, Wesley Dent, and for general relief:

It is ordered that the defendant do appear within fifteen days after due publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect his interest in this suit. And it is further ordered that a copy of this order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks, in the Alexandria, Gazette a newspaper published in the city of Alexandria Virginia; that a copy be posted at the front door of the court house of the said city, on or before the next succeeding rule day after this order has been entered, and that a copy of the said order of publication shall be sent by registered mail by the Clerk of this Court, addressed to the said Sherman Dent at No. 310 Ninth Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., his last known place of address.

A Copy Teste.

Be Sure You Get This Old Reliable Cough Medicine

Imitations always follow the trail of success. Hundreds of imitations have come and gone since FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND began, 40 years ago, to loosen the grip of coughs and colds.

Be sure you get the genuine

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

And avoid the names that sound like it.

Here are three easy ways to tell the genuine. 1st—The name of "Foley's," 2nd—The yellow package. 3rd—The Beehive on the yellow package. You cannot get a substitute to do for you what FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND will do—for coughs, colds, croup, bronchial and lagrippe coughs, throat and lung trouble. Buy it of your druggist and be safe.
